THE CATHOLIC COMMUNITY OF SAINT JOHN THE BAPTIST

DATE	EXTRAORDINARY MINISTERS	LAY READERS	ALTAR SERVERS	PPV, THURIBLE,
DAY, TIME	BLOOD OF CHRIST	BODY OF CHRIST		INCENSE & SACRISTAN

Reminder to Extraordinary Ministers:

The permanent deacons are not on this schedule. If a Deacon serves at Mass, one of the scheduled Extraordinary Ministers of the Blood of Jesus must surrender their ministerial assignment to the Deacon who is an Ordinary Minister of the Blood of Christ. When an Extraordinary Minister serves in multiple ministries at one Mass, the shoulder adornment is worn throughout the Mass.

Reminder to Extraordinary Ministers and Sacristans:

If a spill of the consecrated wine occurs, it must be cleaned up with the great respect due to the Lord's true blood. No mops are allowed, but only purificators and towels from the sacristy which should be rinsed in the sacrarium, the basin in the sacristy, before being placed in the laundry.

If a consecrated host is dropped, Extraordinary Ministers are to pick it up and keep it 'to the side' so that it may be disposed of with the great respect due to the Lord's true body either by being consumed or by being dissolved in an ablution cup prior to being rinsed down the sacrarium drain.

New Sacristan Information:

At wedding and baptism ceremonies, whether or not associated with a Mass, Ann Marie Benzinger will normally gather the appropriate sacramentals and other supplies peculiar to the aforementioned sacraments. She will assist the priest/deacon during the marriage or baptism. A sacristan, if scheduled for the Mass, need not be concerned with the included sacrament and its requirements but should fulfill the usual sacristan role. It could be beneficial, if the scheduled sacristans observed and became familiar with the additional sacramentals, supplies and roles which wedding and baptism ceremonies add to the liturgy, in the event that Ann Marie would be unavailable to serve.
